UI

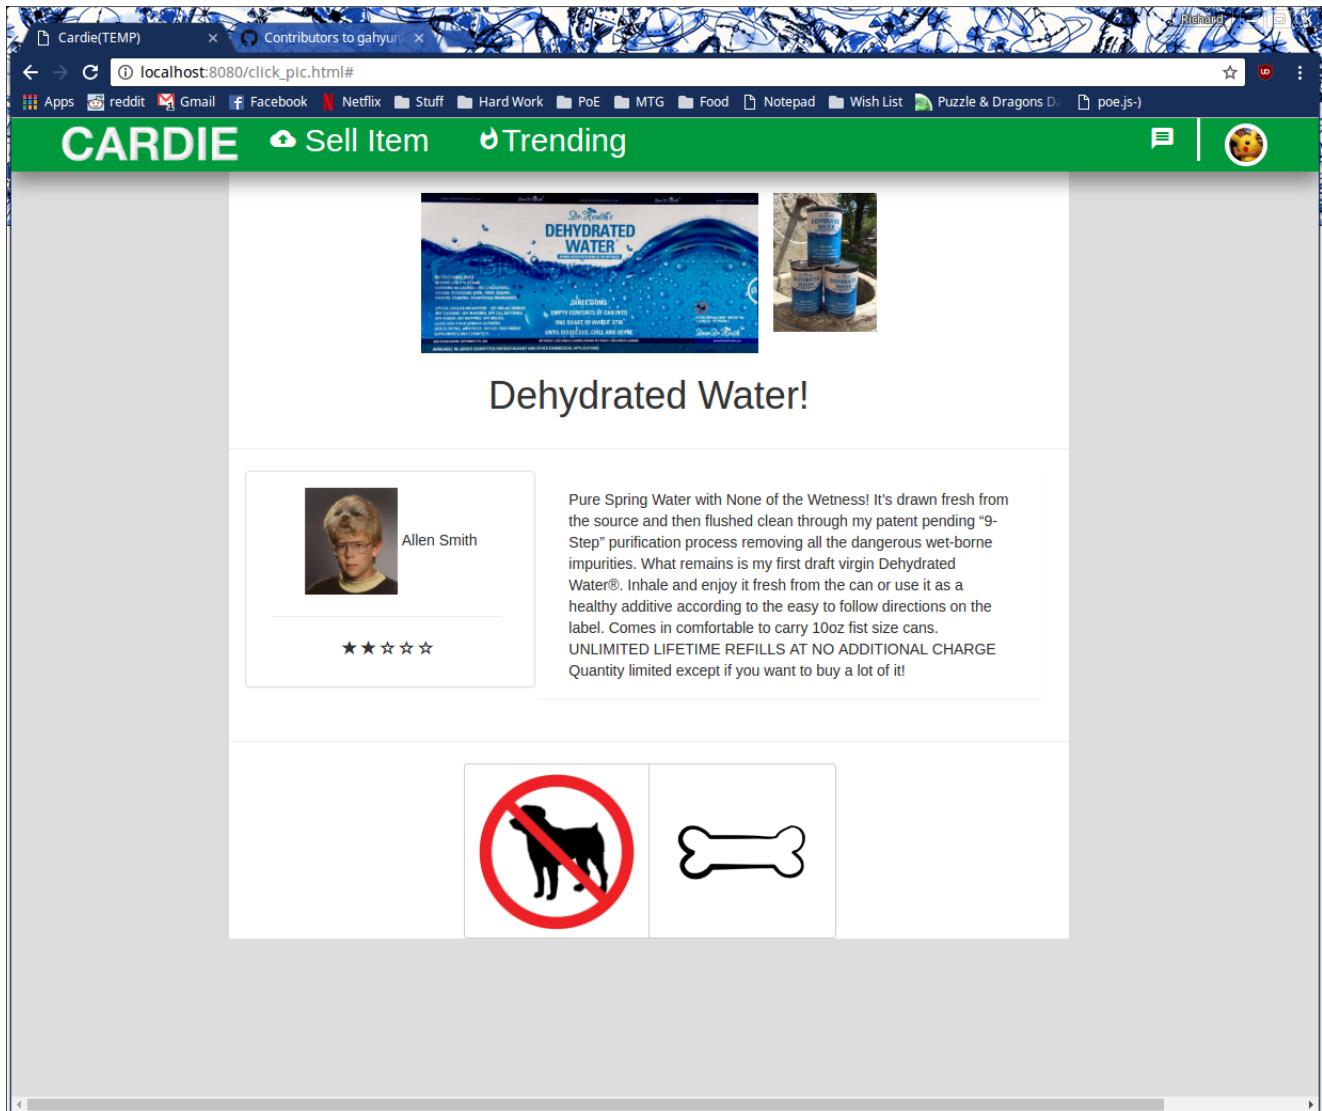

The first thing the user sees when they log in is the main application, which consists of the swiping module. When the user is not logged in, they see a public version of the navbar:

Once logged in, then the navbar switches to the private version and the user can access other features of the web application:

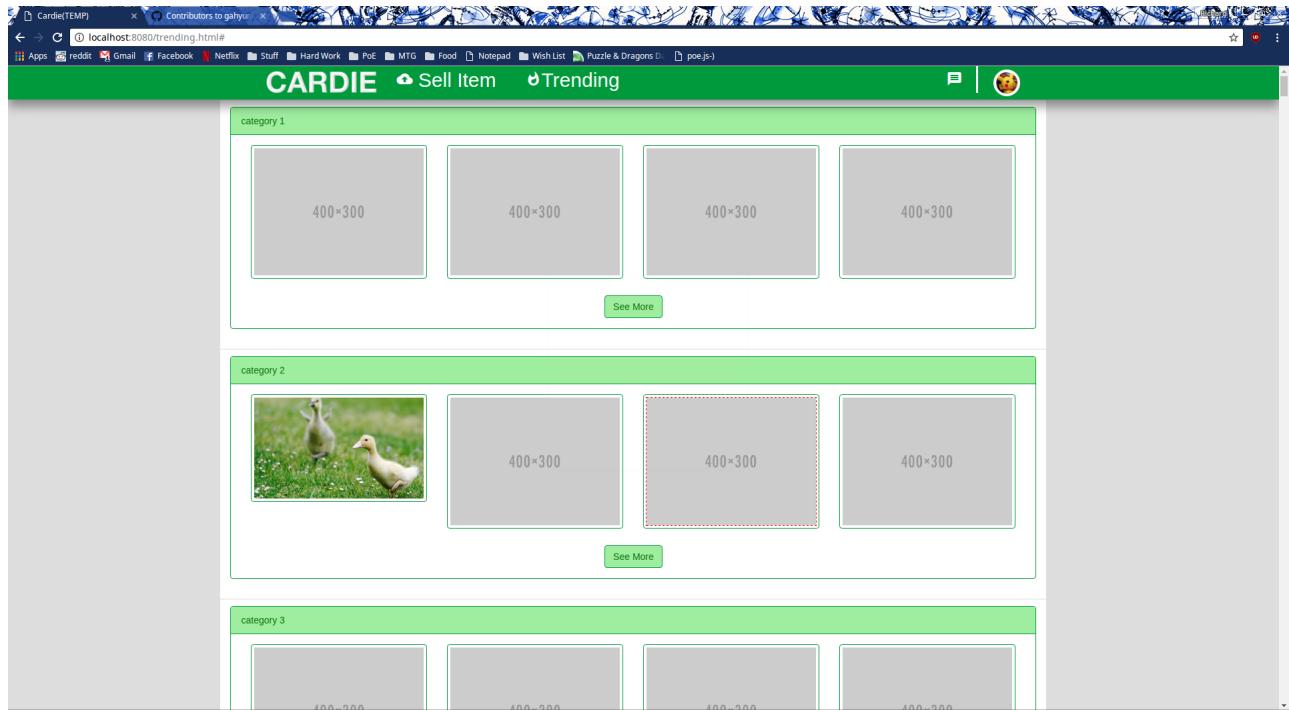

If the user clicks on the item image, they open a popup with more information on the item. Currently it is in a new page, but we intend to display it as a javascript popup:

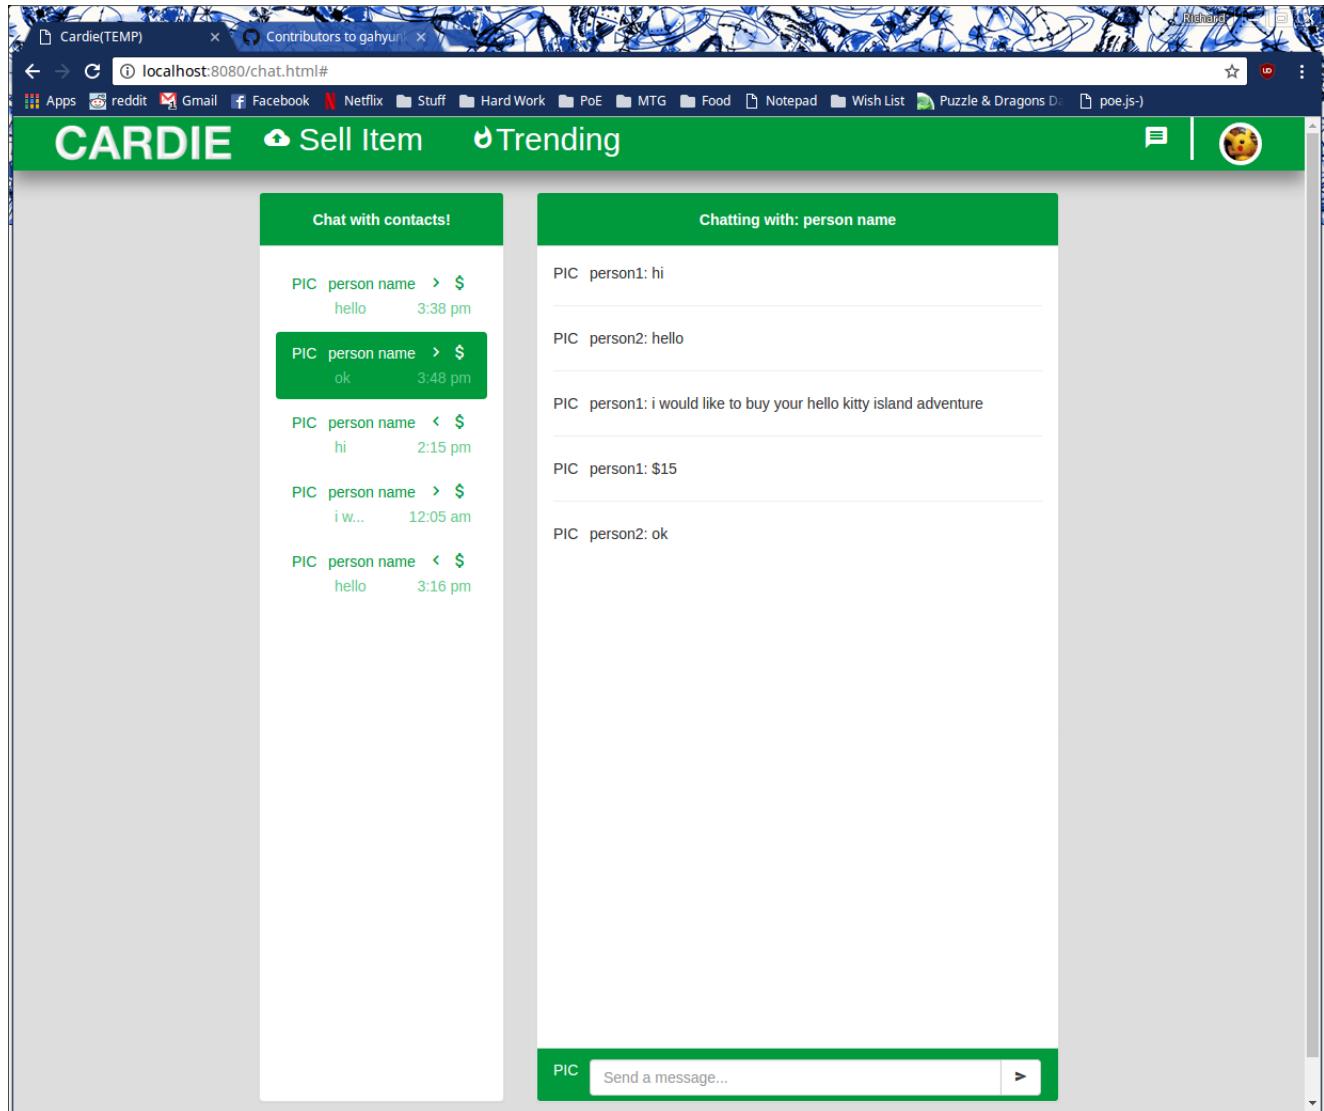

Clicking on the "Sell Item" button on the navbar brings the user to a form where they can submit an item to sell:

The screenshot shows a modal window titled "CARDIE" with a green header bar containing "CARDIE", a "Sell Item" button, a "Trending" button, and a user profile icon. The main content area has a white background. On the left, there is a large placeholder image for a camera icon. To its right are two buttons: "Choose" with a camera icon and "Upload" with a circular arrow icon. Below these are two input fields: a dropdown menu labeled "Category" and a text area labeled "Enter Description". At the bottom left is a date input field labeled "Item expires:" with the placeholder "mm/dd/yyyy". At the bottom right are two buttons: a green "Submit" button and a red "Cancel" button.

Clicking on the "Trending" button on the navbar brings the user to a page where they can browse through items that are currently trending, sorted by category. Clicking on a category allows the user to see more:

On the right side of the navbar, the message button brings the user to a chat interface where the user can interact with potential buyers and sellers:

Hovering over the profile picture on the far right side of the navbar displays a drop down menu which contains some administrative links, one of which is the user profile settings:

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `localhost:8080/user_profile.html#`. The page has a green header bar with the text "CARDIE" and navigation links for "Sell Item" and "Trending". On the far right of the header is a user profile picture of a person with short brown hair. A dropdown menu is visible next to the profile picture, containing options like "Edit Profile", "Logout", and "Settings". The main content area features a large title "Susie Kim" and two sections: "Description" and "Linked Accounts" on the left, and "Settings" on the right.

Description

Hi! My name is Susie and I live in Lexington, MA. Things I like shopping for on Cardie include: pet supplies, stuffed animals, and more! Some of the things I sell include: old textbooks, furniture, and my own arts & crafts!

Another administrative link that the user has access to is the item management page, which allows the user to administrate the items that they have for sale:

The screenshot shows a web browser window with multiple tabs open. The active tab is titled "Item Manager" and features a green header bar with the text "CARDIE". Below the header is a table with three rows, each representing an item. The columns are labeled "Item", "Description", and "Actions".
